

About 7 months ago I got fed up with commerical radio's limited fair and those insane commercials constantly haranguing me to call for some product or service I could care less about. Do you listen to commercial radio? Doesn't it drive you nuts to hear a ten-digit phone number repeated as many as five times in thirty seconds?? That's just stupid!

So I signed up for XM satellite radio. WHAT A PLEASURE!! The best of talk radio, along with niche and special interest programs. It's like FM thirty years ago when it began to offer something worthwhile. Perhaps in 30-40 years satellite radio will evolve into something that, like commercial radio, isn't worth listening to.

The only thing lacking is local coverage via satellite radio. I understand that special interest groups are trying to prevent Satellite radio from fulfilling its potential. I urge you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160 and, instead, support the American people's right to have their airwaves provide content that they (we) want. Please support the growth of satellite radio.
